THE FINANCIAL SITUATION OF THE UNITED NATIONS

Report of the Secretary-General

I. THE PRESENT SITUATION

1. The present report is issued to supplement and update the information previously provided to Member States on the financial situation of the United Nations (see A/46/600 and Add.1).

2. The overall financial situation of the United Nations remains extremely precarious. The cause of the problem is the continuing failure of Member States to pay their assessed contributions, whether for the regular budget or for peace-keeping operations, in full and on time. At 30 April 1992, unpaid assessed contributions totalled $1,898.7 million.

A. Payment of assessed contributions to the regular budget

3. At the end of 1991 unpaid assessed contributions to the regular budget totalled $439.4 million. On 1 January 1992, following the adoption by the General Assembly of the programme budget for the biennium 1992-1993, additional assessments of $1,037.5 million became payable. Annex I to the present report provides detailed information on the status of contributions to the regular budget as at 30 April 1992. Unpaid contributions to the regular budget totalled $1,093.4 million at that date, of which $416.0 million was outstanding for 1991 and prior years, and $677.4 million relates to 1992. The amount outstanding is the equivalent of 105 per cent of the regular budget assessment for 1992.

4. Put another way, at 30 April 1992 only 34.7 per cent of the 1992 regular budget assessments had been paid. Notwithstanding the repeated appeals for full and timely payment of assessments, as at that date, only 39 Member States had fully paid their regular budget assessments for 1992 and prior years. The remaining 124 Member States had failed to meet their statutory financial obligations to the Organization. Of these, 74 Member States owed more than their current year's assessment. Moreover, 65 Member States had made no payment at all for the regular budget by the end of April. Annex II shows, as at 30 April 1992, the Member States in each of these categories.

B. Payment of assessed contributions to peace-keeping operations

5. Non-payment or delays in payment of assessed contributions for peace-keeping operations have also exacerbated the financial difficulties of the United Nations. The number of peace-keeping operations financed by assessed contributions has expanded dramatically in the past five years, and so have the difficulties in obtaining sufficient contributions to keep each operation funded on an adequate and timely basis.

6. There are currently nine peace-keeping operations financed by assessed contributions: the United Nations Disengagement Observer Force (UNDOF); the United Nations Interim Force in Lebanon (UNIFIL); the United Nations Angola Verification Mission (UNAVEM II); the United Nations Iraq-Kuwait Observation Mission (UNIKOM); the United Nations Mission for the Referendum in Western Sahara (MINURSO); the United Nations Observer Mission in El Salvador (ONUSAL); the United Nations Advance Mission in Cambodia (UNAMIC); the United Nations Transitional Authority in Cambodia (UNTAC); and the United Nations Protection Force (UNPROFOR). In addition, there are four recently completed peace-keeping operations for which the accounts are still open and outstanding contributions, amounting to $18.5 million, are still being sought. They are the United Nations Iran-Iraq Military Observer Group (UNIIMOG); the United Nations Angola Verification Mission (UNAVEM I); the United Nations Transitional Assistance Group (UNTAG); and the United Nations Observer Group in Central America (ONUCA).

7. As at 30 April 1992 outstanding contributions to these peace-keeping operations totalled $805.3 million. The relationship of outstanding contributions for the nine current peace-keeping operations to the amounts assessed for each is shown below:

	Cumulative assessments through current mandate	Outstanding contributions as at 30 April 1992	Percentage of contributions unpaid
	(Millions of US dollars)
UNDOF a/	432.8	17.2	4
UNIFIL	2 061.4	281.7	14
UNAVEM b/	109.1	31.7	29
UNIKOM	93.2	17.9	19
MINURSO	140.9	53.3	38
ONUSAL	13.2	6.2	47
UNAMIC	33.3	20.8	62
UNTAC	200.0	118.4	59
UNPROFOR	250.5	240.6	96

a/ Includes assessments for the United Nations Emergency Force (UNEF II), 1974 to 1980.

b/ Includes assessments for UNAVEM I, 1989 to 1991.

8. On average, only 36.3 per cent of the first assessment for newly established peace-keeping operations is paid at the end of three months, and only 56.8 per cent is paid at the end of six months. Such a pattern, if repeated for the most recent and the new operations, could place them in serious jeopardy.

9. The financial situation with respect to peace-keeping operations described in the preceding paragraphs does not include the projected total requirements for UNTAC and UNPROFOR; the expanded requirements for UNAVEM and ONUSAL; nor the requirements for the new United Nations Operation in Somalia (UNOSOM).

II. OBSERVATIONS

10. Over the past few months, the financial situation of the Organization has become worse, owing in particular to the initiation or expansion of complex tasks in the areas of peace-keeping and conflict resolution. Unless Member States act promptly and decisively to provide the resources required to meet the expanded responsibilities they have entrusted to the United Nations, it may not be possible to maintain the Organization's operations.

11. As indicated above, the level of outstanding contributions, both for the regular budget and for assessed peace-keeping operations, has continued to increase dramatically since the last report. Between the end of October 1991 and the end of April 1992, outstanding contributions from Member States had virtually doubled, from $988.1 million to $1,898.7 million. Annex III provides a listing, in order of magnitude, of the outstanding contributions from Member States, as at 30 April 1992, for both the regular budget and the peace-keeping operations financed by assessed contributions.

12. Owing to the extraordinarily high level of outstanding contributions, it was necessary throughout all of 1991 to draw upon the reserves of the Organization to meet current operating requirements (see A/46/600/Add.1, annex). In addition, from mid-August until mid-October, and intermittently thereafter until the end of the year, funds were borrowed from the few peace-keeping operations that had cash in excess of their immediate requirements in order to meet both regular budget obligations and the cash requirements of other new peace-keeping operations.

13. In 1992 the ongoing difficulties have been exacerbated by vastly increased requirements for peace-keeping operations as well as delays in payment of assessments for the regular budget, particularly by some of the major contributors. Owing to the level of outstanding contributions for peace-keeping operations, short-term loans between certain peace-keeping accounts have continued to be necessary in 1992 to cover daily operational requirements. Such short-term borrowing mechanisms are manifestly inadequate, however, in the face of the cash required over the next few months for peace-keeping operations (estimated at some $700 million), particularly for those in Cambodia and Yugoslavia.

14. At the same time, it must be emphasized that contributions received to date for the regular budget are just sufficient to meet cash requirements through the last week of May. With average monthly needs of some $90 million, only the prompt payment of assessments, especially by the largest contributors, not internal borrowing from peace-keeping funds, can provide the resources necessary to meet regular budget obligations.
